THE PUBLISHING AGREEMENT

Assignment of publishing rights

I hereby assign to Edra S.p.A. the copyright in the manuscript identified above (government authors not electing to transfer agree to assign an exclusive publishing and distribution license) and any supplemental tables, illustrations or other information submitted therewith that are intended for publication as part of the manuscript (the “Article”) in all forms and media (whether now known or hereafter developed), throughout the world, in all languages, for the full term of copyright, effective when and if the article is accepted for publication.

This transfer includes the right to provide the Article in electronic and online forms and systems. With respect to supplemental data that I wish to make accessible through a link in the Article, I hereby grant a non-exclusive license for such linking.

Articles may sometimes be accepted for publication but later rejected in the publication process, even in some cases after public posting in “Articles in Press” form, in which event all rights will revert to the author.

Revisions and addenda

I understand that no revisions, additional terms or addenda to this Agreement can be accepted without expressed written consent.

Note: authors at institutions that place restrictions on copyright assignments or that assert an institutional right to distribute or provide access to the works of institutional authors, must obtain an express waiver from those institutions releasing the author from such restrictions to enable the acceptance of this publishing agreement.

Retention of rights for scholarly purposes \(see definitions below\)

I understand that I retain or am hereby granted (without the need to obtain further permission) the Retained Rights (see description below and definitions).

The Retained Rights include:

- the right to use the Preprint or Accepted Author Manuscript for Personal Use, Internal Institutional Use and for Permitted Scholarly Posting;
- the right to use the Published Journal Article for Personal Use and Internal Institutional Use, but in each case as noted in the Definitions excluding Commercial Use or Systematic Distribution.

Author Representations/Ethics and Disclosure

I affirm the Author Representations noted below, and confirm that I have reviewed and complied with the relevant Instructions to Authors, Ethics in Publishing policy, and Conflicts of Interests disclosure. Please note that some journals may require that all co-authors sign and submit Conflicts of Interest disclosure forms. I am also aware of the publisher's policies with respect to retractions and withdrawal.

I am also aware of the publisher's policies with respect to retractions and withdrawal and the journal home page.

DEFINITIONS

Accepted author manuscript (“AAM”)

Author's version of the manuscript of an article that has been accepted for publication and which may include any author-incorporated changes suggested through the processes of submission processing, peer review, and editor-author communications. AAMs should not include other publisher value added contributions such as copy-editing, formatting and (if relevant) pagination, and should include the Appropriate Bibliographic Citation and a link to the final publication.

Appropriate bibliographic citation

Authors posting Accepted Author Manuscript online should later add a citation for the Published Journal Article indicating that the Article was subsequently published, and may mention the journal title provided they add the following text at the beginning of the document:

“NOTICE: this is the author's version of a work that was accepted for publication Annals of Research in Oncology. Changes resulting from the publishing process, such as peer review, editing, corrections, structural formatting, and other quality control mechanisms may not be reflected in this document. Changes may have been made to this work since it was submitted for publication. A definitive version was subsequently published in Annals of Research in Oncology [VOL#, ISSUE#, (DATE)...]”.

Commercial use

The use or posting of articles for commercial gain or to substitute for the services provided directly by the journal including:

- the posting by companies of their employee-authored works for use by customers of such companies (e.g. pharmaceutical companies and physician-prescribers); and
- commercial exploitation such as directly associating advertising with such posting or the charging of fees for document delivery or access.

Internal institutional use

Permitted scholarly posting

Voluntary posting of AAMs or Preprints by an author on open Web sites operated by the author or the author's institution for scholarly purposes, as determined by the author, or (in connection with Preprints) on preprint servers, but not for Commercial Use or Systematic Distribution. The author should include the Appropriate Bibliographic Citation when posting AAMs. Deposit in or posting to subject-oriented or centralised repositories (such as PubMed Central), or institutional repositories with mandates for systematic postings, is permitted only under specific agreements between the Editor in Chief and the repository, agency or institution.

Published journal article

The definitive final record of published research that appears or will appear in the Journal and embodies all value-adding Publisher activities including copy-editing, formatting and (if relevant) pagination.

Systematic distribution

Policies or other mechanisms designed to aggregate and openly disseminate manuscripts or articles, or to substitute for journal-provided services, including:

- the systematic distribution to others via e-mail lists or listservers (to parties other than known colleagues), whether for a fee or for free;
- the posting of links to sponsored articles by commercial third parties including pharmaceutical companies;
- institutional, funding body or government manuscript posting policies or mandates that aim to aggregate and openly distribute the accepted, peer reviewed manuscripts or published journal articles authored by its researchers or funded researchers; and
